Cornerstone Health Care Announces Merger with Lucas Pediatrics

Greensboro, NC — Lucas Pediatrics, located at 1416 Yanceyville Street, Suite 1, in Greensboro, has joined Cornerstone Health Care. “We are very pleased that this respected pediatrics practice has chosen to become part of Cornerstone. Dr. Kathleen Lucas is a highly experienced board certified pediatrician who founded the practice in 1994,” said Cornerstone President and CEO, Grace E. Terrell, MD. Lucas Pediatrics has been renamed Lucas Pediatrics of Cornerstone Health Care – Greensboro.

Dr. Lucas earned her Bachelor of Science Degree at West Virginia University School of Medicine in Morgantown while working as a Medical Technologist. She received her Medical Degree from Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, Huntington, WV and has been a practicing pediatrician since 1987. Her residency training was completed at Moses Cone Hospital and UNC-Chapel Hill. Her special interest in pediatrics is behavioral and neurophysiologic deficits including learning disabilities/attention deficit. Dr. Lucas holds professional memberships in Greater Greensboro Society of Medicine, North Carolina Pediatric Society, and is a Fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The practice participates with Community Care of North Carolina (CCNC) state program.

Raveendra Orugunta, MD has extensive experience in Pediatric Emergency Medicine, Amy Eubanks, MD, specializing in general pediatrics and Dianne Turner, CPNP, who has a special interest in asthma and respiratory care, are the other providers at Lucas Pediatrics. The practice is accepting new patients and may be contacted at 336 510-5510.

Cornerstone Health Care is a multi-disciplinary physician-owned and managed medical group with 61 practices, located in High Point, Winston-Salem, Asheboro, Thomasville, Jamestown, Kernersville, Archdale, Trinity, Lexington, Greensboro and Advance. With over 275 providers specializing in family medicine, pediatrics, internal medicine and obstetrics and gynecology, and a spectrum of subspecialties, and with over 1300 employees, Cornerstone is the second largest physician group in the Piedmont Triad.
